Highfields' Annual Strengthening Families Fundraising Breakfast Coming Soon

Highfields' annual Strengthening Families Fundraising Breakfast will take place on Thursday, October 29 at 8:00 a.m. on Michigan State University's campus in the Kellogg Hotel and Conference Center.

Join us for free breakfast, great conversation and inspirational stories from our key speakers. This year, speakers at the breakfast include community members who benefitted from Highfields' services.

One speaker is Doug Johnson, a teenager who turned his life around thanks to Highfields' Multisystemic Therapy (MST). He is excited to share his experience with MST and how it has helped bring his family closer together.

"MST is just one of the evidence based programs we use to positively impact our clients," said Brian Philson, Highfields President and CEO. "We know it works."

Although the breakfast is free to attend, donations are welcomed. All of the proceeds will go toward the counseling and support services Highfields provides to families struggling with violence, substance abuse and behavioral issues.

Attendees are asked to RSVP by October 23rd to Deana Rowen at (517) 628-2287 x360 or drowen@highfields.org.
